Reference for Sasa Kovacevic

Sasa Kovacevic participated in my second-semester course 'British Culture and Society' in the 2011 spring semester, which introduces students to central political and cultural issues and challenges in contemporary British society. Sasa proved a very competent student, earning excellent marks for his performance in the final exam.

Sasa's contributions to discussions in class were consistently relevant and thoughtful. His curiosity and incisive questions – not to mention his generous and outgoing personality – contributed significantly to making this class a pleasure to teach. He possesses sound language skills and broad knowledge about European politics.

It is my firm belief that the experience of working in an embassy setting will benefit Sasa academically and personally, adding valuable experience and building significantly on his performance in the Department of Business Communication. In short, the experience will accelerate his professional development considerably.

Accordingly, I fully support Sasa's application. I have every confidence that he will be a diligent, resourceful and valuable addition to the embassy staff.

If you require any further information, please do not hesitate to contact me.
